

KILKENNY COUNTY COUNCIL LIBRARY SERVICE

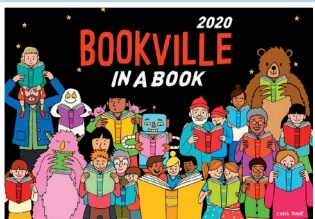

BOOKVILLE RE-IMAGINED- Bookville in a Book!

We are delighted to be able to bring the hugely successful Bookville Kilkenny to life again for a fourth year! We have overcome the limitations on everyone, by re-imagining Bookville and creating Bookville in a book, a wonderful activity book to treasure!

Traditionally a celebration of books, writing, storytelling, theatre, illustration and much more, this year we are bring you Bookville in a Book-Packed with fun activities and beautifully illustrated, the activity book is based on books and illustrations from some of the best contemporary children's books.

10,000 copies of Bookville in a book have been printed and prepared for distributing to primary schools all over Kilkenny! Kilkenny Library Service's driver Tom has been delivering the books far and wide, from Ferrybank to Coon and Urlingford to Inistige! The book is also available now to download from www.bookville-kilkenny.com

Bookville is brought to you by Kilkenny Arts Office and Kilkenny Library Service supported by the Creative Ireland programme. Bookville events normally run countywide across the library network and in the Arts Office on Dean Street. This festival would not exist without our audiences and the support that you give to the festival.

We hope that our 2020 Bookville in a book will inspire children of all ages to become critical thinkers with curious minds and we are very much looking forward to seeing you at live events for Bookville 2021!
